Department of Vocal and Acting Studies

offer of Doctoral Studies with English as the language of tuition

Dear Candidates,

We kindly recommend the offer of Doctoral Studies in the discipline of Vocal Studies. Based on our long-term experience and our Department's latest achievements, we present an educational offer covering all styles and periods which formed throughout history and present times. Regardless of your interests, your doctorate may be devoted to performance, pedagogy, or research studies on human voice and its professional training for vocalists/singers.

While preparing the curriculum, we first off all had in mind adjusting the plan of studies to the capacities to design and carry out students' participation in doctoral classes. Our plan envisages a substantial amount of freedom in selecting the area for a doctoral thesis and research connected with it. By principle, each doctorate's priority is to individually adjust the schedule of duties. Thanks to taking up these studies, your knowledge, skills and range of professional competencies will be widened to an extent meeting all modern university requirements. Our aim is to prepare you for high-profile jobs in the academic or concert world. We want your doctoral thesis to open you the door to the highest university achievements in the future.
